

RELATIVE PRONOUNS ( WHO, WHICH, THAT, WHERE)

- I met a kind man. He was a famous poet.
I met a kind man who/that is a famous poet
- I don't know the man. He is talking to Rita.
I don't know the man who/that is talking to Rita.
- The police officer was friendly. He gave me directions.
The police officer who/that gave me directions was friendly.
- The girl is happy. She won the race.
The girl who/that won the race is happy.
- My daughter asked me a question. I couldn't answer it.
My daughter asked me a question which/that I couldn't answer.
- A lion is an animal. This animal lives in Africa.
A lion is an animal which/that lives in Africa.
- I have a class. It begins at 8.00 a.m.
I have a class which/that begins at 8.00 a.m.
- The soup was too salty. I had it for lunch.
The soup which/that I had for lunch was too salty.
- The city was beautiful. We spent our vacation there (in that city.)
The city where we spent our vacation was beautiful.
- The town is small. I grew up there (in that town).
The town where I grew up is small.
- We are going to have a picnic at the park. You always go jogging there.
We are going to have a picnic at the park where you always go jogging.
- I keep my Money at the bank. Your sister Works there.
I keep my Money at the bank where your sister Works.